DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's arguments, see Response, filed 11/28/2007, with respect to the Restriction/Election requirement have been fully considered and are persuasive. The restriction/election requirement has been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 60, 61, 63, 64, 65, 67, 68, 70, 71, 72, 74, 75, 78, 79, 122 and 123 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Villani (US 5,848,989).

Villani discloses in Figure 3 an access port device comprising biocompatible upper body (2) and lower body portions (17), a self-sealing unitary piece septum (4) which forms a portion of an exterior surface of the device; a reservoir (8) in continuous fluid communication with an outlet (10) connected to a catheter (12); and access site (any point on septum which is not the point directly across from the outlet); and entry site (point on septum directly across from the outlet). Depending on the point of entry and how a user were to angle a needle/guidewire through the septum of Villani's device, one could easily find an access/entry site configuration in which access from an exterior of the device to the reservoir via the access site would not pass through the entry site nor the outlet.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 113, 114, 116, 118, 119, 120, 121, rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Villani as modified by Ensminger (US 5,263,930).

Villani discloses the claimed invention except for expressly disclosing the use of a guidewire/stylet in the system. Ensminger discloses in Figure 4 that it is known to position a guidewire/stylet through the outlet and catheter of an implantable access port. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the device of Villani with a guidewire/stylet as taught by Ensminger, since such a modification would help in positioning the device of Villani in a patient.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 66, 76, 77 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226

Art Unit: 3767

(Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims of U.S. Patent No. 6,190,352. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they disclose the same invention.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 6/21/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Upon reconsideration of the Villani reference, Examiner has found a new way to interpret the prior art. As currently claimed, Applicant's entry site and access site are very broadly claimed, and as explained in the rejection above, can include paths in the same septum which simply do not cross. Examiner suggests limiting the claim to include some spatial relationship between the access and entry sites (for example, as in objected claims 66, 76, and 77) to clearly define the relationship between the two sites.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
